

Upcoming Area Meetings

Staff has been notified that the following area meetings have been scheduled.

The City of Rockville Development Review Process requires that neighborhood area meetings be conducted for development projects requiring certain types of applications. The purpose of the meeting is to allow the applicant to present the scope of the proposed project. These meetings are conducted prior to the filing of a formal application with the City and are the sole responsibility of the project applicant; City staff does not attend nor participate in area meetings. Certain applications also require an Area Meeting after the application has been filed with the City. These meetings allow the applicant to present what has been filed to the community. The following information is provided as a courtesy.
